

Hold On

Kobra and the Lotus

Hello! My friend! I can't wait to see you again
I've counted the seconds, and minutes, hours
Wondering if you're thinking the same And the moment comes
As the seasons change
And nobody knows
What are we waiting for?! Hold on my love
Hold on before it's taken away
So long my love
So long to these pale blue days
So close, I can feel it, can you taste it?
I'm here, there, everywhere the light fills your holes
I breath just to know you're alive And the moment comes
As the seasons change
Still nobody knows
What are we waiting for?! Hold on my love
Hold on before it's taken away
So long my love
So long to these pale blue days Hold on my love
Hold on before it's taken away
So long my love
So long to these pale blue days
Take me back so I may crawl
Into your heart deep within
Take me back to your home
Where our life can begin
Take me back to where these
Pale days are no longer blue
I've hidden your word so I never may sin against you
I never may sin against you What are we waiting for?
What are we waiting for?
Hold on my love
Hold on before it's taken away
So long my love
So long to these pale blue days
Hold on my love
Hold on before it's taken away
So long my love
So long to these pale blue days
