Every Day Is A Struggle

Senses Fail

I was the chap stick in your purse, to keep you smooth
I was a finger in your throat, to keep you cute
My liver hates you for walking out on us
My kidneys drowning in a pool of a long lost loveI stole your perfume to spray in my room
You will always be hereSo much for the past year
I poured it down the drain with all the alcohol and pain I got from
Your eyes, oh, your eyes
Im burning out my bedside, and Im rotting out my insides slowlyI was the hand that held your hair back from your face
Now I must forget the way you tasteI stole your perfume to spray in my room
You will always be hereSo much for the past year
I poured it down the drain with all the alcohol and pain I got from
Your eyes, oh, your eyes
Im burning out my bedside, and Im rotting out my insides slowlyI love you so damn much, Ill even start to pray
Ill put my faith in all your bullshit if it means youll stay
I love you so damn much, Ill even start to pray
Ill put my faith in all your bullshit if it means youll staySo much for the past year
I poured it down the drain with all the alcohol and pain I got from
Your eyes, oh, your eyes
Im burning out my bedside, and Im rotting out my inside
Im burning out my bedside, and Im rotting out my insidesI love you so much, I started praying
I love you so much that I started praying
I love you so much, I started praying
I love you so much that I started praying
