I Believe You

Celldweller

This is my excuse to testify been a beaten down boy and i don't know why that's alright, that's alrightWell the truth was a lie and i don't know how it got me to follow and it's true that the lie that was sold me will never let me goWhat i needed you to say was hidden far away
This is why i've had to justify,
my head is shaken, yeah but that's alright
What i needed to believe was hidden far from me That's alright 'cause i believe youTake advantage of a malleable mind been a weakened sucker boy without a spine that's alright, that's alrightTell me that I've got to fight your fights, and now i'm a bleeding boy without a life but that's alright, that's alrightWell the truth was a lie and i don't know how it got me to follow and it's true that the lie that was
sold me will never let me goWhat i needed you to
say was hidden far away
This is why i've had to justify,
my head is shaken, yeah but that's alright
What i needed to believe was hidden far from me
That's alright 'cause i believe youDon't feel bad because i won't cry I'll do your will and not ask why, but that's alright because i believe youWhat i needed you to
say was hidden far away
This is why i've had to justify,
my head is shaken, yeah but that's alright
What i needed to believe was hidden far from me
That's alright, that's alrightWhat i needed you to say was hidden far away
This is why i've had to justify,
my head is shaken, yeah but that's alright
What i needed to believe was hidden far from me
That's alright cus' I believe youThat's alright, cus' I believe you That's alright, that's alright

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/