Nobody Noticed It

Lisa Marie Presley

I heard broken footsteps
Was that you limping
Well I wish that I could spent
Just a little bit more time with you, yeah
Tears on my ceiling
Weren't you watching
Well I guess none of us will ever
Know what comes after this
You're still lovely
You were lovely then
All that you had to endure
I guess nobody noticed it
I know your resemblance
It's out there walkin'
And I wanted you to know
That I haven't forgotten
Oh when they try to make you look broken
But not while I'm livin'
But I wanted you to know that

I heard what he said when it was rainin'
You're still lovely
You were lovely then
All that you had to endure
I guess nobody noticed it
You made me and I loved you
And do you know nothing has changed
Now everyone they notice it
Everyone notices
You're still lovely
You were lovely then
All that you had to endure
I guess nobody noticed it
You made me and I loved you
And do you know that nothing has changed
Now everyone they notice it
Everyone notices
