So Am I

Kensington

(Ooooh, ooooh)
So am I, am I the only one who knows I'm right?
The fire's faded, now the smoke we're in
Will leave us nothing more than scalded skin
Our memories in the ashesNow it's strange, how it gets me
It's fate, if you ask meSo are we, are we fulfilling our forsaken needs?
Will we extend this, knowing fights we face?
Will force us back behind the walls we made
Running for the door but stillIt's strange, how it gets me
It's fate, if you ask meTime has come to hold our heads up
Gainsay everything we claim
But when the tides are turning
Fires we burned up, burst from the centre of the earth
We're the centre of the earthIt's strange, how it gets me
It's fate, if you ask me
