

Worst December

Sugarcult

It's a big mistake
fifty days, three months away
I'd be laughing today
But your voice on the phone gives me no reason

Don't take from me
My heart is barely beating
Don't take from me
I'm falling down

All I want to do is lie in bed with you
All I really ever need is you
All I got to do is give up all I have to be with you

It's a different day
fifteen hundred miles away
Why would you want to stay?
So take a look around

All I want to do is lie in bed with you
All I really ever need is you
All I got to do is give up all I have to be with you
(with you, with you, with you,)

All I want to do, to be close to you
All I want to do, to be next to you
All I want is you to give up all we had to be
I can't remember why I'm here
If you'd let me spend my life with you, with you

December's gone
It came and went
December's gone
It came and went

All I really need is you
I'm waiting here for you
December's gone
It came and went

waiting her for you,
December's gone
It came and went
December's gone
It came and went
