

Silver Girl

Fleetwood Mac

She was a silver girl
Lost in a high tech world
She was a golden girl
Immersed in a hard core worldShe would have preferred
The last generation
But that's all right
She's on her wayShe had the Midas touch
She was lady luck
She's got a million bucks
And she looks like itShe's had a few hard times
Sometimes it blows her mind
Papers she never signed
Sometimes she remembersSometimes she was just an actress
But you'll never really know
Shadows moves across her face
You cannot see her soul
Unless she lets you
See her soulShe was a girlie girl
Caught in a man's world
And as her world turns
She feels so aloneStill she's a danger girl
Insane far beyond her years
On some things she's very clear
She's a wild adventurerSometimes she was just an actress
But you'll never really know
Shadows moves across her face
You cannot see her soulSometimes she was just an actress
But you'll never really know
Shadows moves across her face
You cannot see her soulYou cannot see her soul
You cannot see her soul
You cannot see her soul unless she lets you
See her soul
See her soul, if she lets you
See her soulSometimes she's an actress
But you'll never really know
Shadows move across her face
You cannot see her soul
You cannot see her soul
