

There Must Be Love (feat. Janice Robinson)

David Morales

There are mountains and tribulations
    Moments in trepidation
    There will be days, so trying
But in the end there's loveThere are minutes and decades
    Of stories, triumph and glory
    There will be days so filled with joy
But in the end there's loveThere are oceans of tear drops
    Heartbreaking and your life stops
    There will be times of deep sorrow
    But in the end there's loveLove, it is there
        It is yours, it is power
        Love, when it hurts
        When it heals, when it showers
        Love, when you can't
        When you doubt, in that hour
Love will never leave youLove, when you fear
    When you're lost and you're broken
        Love, when you cry
        When you weep, feel alone
        Just love through the pain
        Love through the shame
        Love through your darkest days
There must beThere must be love, there must be love
    There must be love, there must be love
    There must be love, there must be love
There must be love, there must be loveThere are windows of wisdom
    Wake up calls, you must listen
    There are the tests and testimonies
But in the end there's loveThere are wicked ones who try to steal your hope
    Evil ones try to drug your soul
    There is a light that you must seek
Cause in the end there must be loveLove, it is there
        It is yours, it is power
        Love, when it hurts
        When it heals, when it showers
        Love, when you can't
        When you doubt, in that hour
Love will never leave youLove, when you fear
    When you're lost and you're broken

Love, when you cry
When you weep, feel alone
Just love through the pain
Love through the shame
Love through your darkest days
There must be love, there must be love
There must be love, there must be love
There must be love, there must be love
There must be love, there must be love I wanna go higher, I wanna go higher
I wanna go higher, I wanna go higher
I wanna go higher, I wanna go higher
I wanna go higher, I wanna go higher There must be love, there must be love
There must be love, there must be love
There must be love, there must be love
There must be love, there must be love There must be love
