

Wild Honey

Dr. John

Open your arms in the early mornin' When the light comes shinin' through Can't you hear my heart beat just for you? It's beating so wild, honey. And light comes shinin' Singin' my song And the band is playin' And the music is tried and true Can't you hear my heart beat just for you? It's beating so wild, honey. And light comes shinin' I'll be waiting for you I'll be waiting here for me Way up on the mountain Where the hillside rolls down to the sea Tell me what's real? What I feel inside Any time of day or night will do It's alright Can't you hear my heart beat just for you? It's beating so wild, honey. And your light comes shining through. Tell me what's real What I feel inside Any time of day or night will do It's alright. Can't you hear my heart beat just for you? It's beating so wild, honey. And the light comes shining through And the light comes shining through . . . It's beating so wild . . . And the light comes shining through And the light comes shining through.
