

There's A Light

Jay Malinowski

Pretty eyes don't tell me lies
Guide a landing in the night
I'm crashing into desert sands
Etherized against the land

The desert's blown and nothing grows
Wind whipped hills stripped to bone
Will history please let me go?
Let me be, leave me alone

There's a light, now there's a light
Coming down that mountainside
Oh my, my, you lonely souls
I can feel it in my bones

Softer hands, softer touch
Rougher wounds that burn too much
Angel bringing back a hearse
Carried by the night nurse

(Chorus)

Standing vision in the door,
Pretty thing, save my soul
I hear trouble in the land,
A fist that beats into the man

(Chorus)

Lyrics submitted by Amy.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>