Jacob's Song

Brother Isaiah

You know these times be tough with all the hatred and the violence,
All Iâ€™m looking for is a little bit of silence,
To be with you while Iâ€™m down on my knees,
Oh my God, Iâ€™m begging you please to
Batter my heart my Three Person God,
Break down this old, weary faÃ§ade,
And show yourself.
Please show yourself in me.

Oh my God, oh my savior,
Up above, please hear my prayer.

Crying out to my mother Zion,
Mother Mary comforts me,
Speaking words of wisdom,
â€œSoon youâ€™ll see, soon you will see,â€•
And then He comes like a still, small voice,
Way deep down in my soul,
And you show yourself.
Yes, you show yourself in me.

You come in the still small voice;
You come in the still small voice.

You come in the still small voice,
And you say, â€œLet there be light.â€•

You say, â€œLet there be light.â€•
You say, â€œLet there be light.â€•
You say, â€œLet there be light,â€•
And there is light, and light shines in the darkness.ï»¿
