Scattered & Small

Amelia Curran

I was so alive I can only look back
Longer than a legend, larger than a fact
O I was so alive I can only look back
And I was so afraid I have traveled so far
Blaming the horizon, and shouting at the stars
O I was so afraid that Id come so far
O I was so afraid that Id come so far
And when its all over you wont know
Just when youre comin from when you go
And maybe somebodys gonna let you down
But you take your chances, if you only learn howAnd I was so alone and Im scattered and small
But you keep 'em on a level
You let the devil on call
O I was so alone now Im scattered and small
O I was so alone now Im scattered and small
And when its all over you wont know
Just when youre comin from when you go
And maybe somebodys gonna let you down
But you take your chances if you only learn how
O I was so alone now Im scattered and small
O I was so alone now Im scattered and small
