

Criminal

Eliza Hardy Jones

Criminal

I am tired, I am cold, I am angry
I close my eyes and pretend youâ€™re never with me
Iâ€™m a liar, Iâ€™m a fraud, Iâ€™m a criminal at heart
And I steel myself for the fall, but Iâ€™m already in the dark

Take off your clothes and be the ghost they want you to be
Take off your clothes and let them see youâ€™re just a ghost
Take off your clothes and let them see youâ€™re just a ghost
Of who you should be

I am broken, I am bored
I bide my time with crooked words
Iâ€™m a clown, I play a part
But Iâ€™m already in the dark
Iâ€™m already in the dark
I am tired, I am cold, I am angry
And I feel the sun but the wind it blows right through me

Take off your clothes and be the ghost of who you were Everybody knows that you wonâ€™t be who you should be Cause who you should be
Is just a ghost
