Alone In Myself

Edguy

I'm trying hard to match the picture that you paint of me
You don't know how much I would give to really make you
See what I'm right here right nowI speak a word and then I feel like losing mother tongue
Aren't I grateless when you wanna make me feel
That I belong right here nowI'm alone in myselfThere's many thoughts inside I whisper when I'm on my own
It may be strange but I can't phrase them right in front of you
Not right here, not right nowI'm walking down this lonesome lane and talk to dog and hope
That He'll be there to tell you all one day and let you know
What's inside me down here
I feel like this road that fades into the night
Lit up by angels I fail to recognize -
Is paved with the words that I don't findAnd I don't know my way
Got no sight of salvation
No matter how hard I pray I'm lost in translation
Ungrateful...
I run but I don't move
Alone in myself
Alone in myselfAnd I don't know my way
I'm alone in myself
Got no sight of salvation
No sight of salvation
No matter how hard I pray
No matter how hard
I'm lost in translation
Ungrateful
I run but I don't move
Alone in myself
Alone in myselfI'm alone in myself
Alone in myself
