

I'm Still Here

Mindy McCready

Iâ€™m ok, Iâ€™m all right
Hurricanes and train wrecks, only last one night
Would you believe, all Iâ€™ve been through
At the hands of tempted fate, Oh if you only knew
What it costs, how I wait
What I got, what I gave

Iâ€™m still here
After the heartache
After the storm blew through
It kept me and it saved me
Iâ€™m still standing
On a cold dark cloud
With nowhere to fall but down
Like a single naked unrelenting tear
Iâ€™m still here

There was darkness, all around me
There were times that I were sure, I was drowning
There were people, who tried to reach me
But no matter how they loved me, I kept sinking
And I got tired, of my own hell
I reached inside, and I saved myself

Iâ€™m still here
After the heartache
After the storm blew through
It kept me and it saved me
Iâ€™m still standing
On a cold dark cloud
With no where to fall but down
Like a single naked unrelenting tear
Iâ€™m still here

This time I can survive
I ainâ€™t dying on nobody elseâ€™s cross
I ainâ€™t suffering no more unforgiven loss

Oh no

Iâ€™m still here
After the heartache
After the storm blew through
It kept me and it saved me
Iâ€™m still standing
On a cold dark cloud
With no where to fall but down
Like a single naked unrelenting tear

Iâ€™m still here
