He Ain't Comin' Home No More

Nina Simone

Oh stairs, you look so high tonight
Climbin' up with all my might
Where I got no heart to be
'Cause he ain't comin' home no moreOh room, I'm all alone with you
Tell me what's a women to do
When her man is gone
And he ain't comin' home no moreI'm all choked up, inside me, try'na hold back my tears
You know, I just can't get used
I just can't used to this loneliness
How am I gonna face the empty yearsOh chair, oh chair, you sittin' silent there
Don't you even care
That my baby's gone, yeah, yeah
And he ain't comin' home no moreYes, for my baby's gone
And he ain't comin' home no more
