I Won't Complain Today

Ten Foot Pole

Alarm clock wakes me from my nightmare, I smash it I don't have to work today, Hi Standard pumping on the CD, I can't help but smile when they play, For me that's every day, Got no worries what's the hurry? I won't complain today, At least not right this minute, Ben and Jerry lounging pool side, They've got just what it takes to keep me sane, freeze the brain, Man's best friend here right beside me, He always nods and barks while I complain, He doesn't judge my pain, Clouds are lurking in the distance, I know that it can't stay this way, My boss is calling, The dog is shitting in the pool, I know that it won't last, I know that it can't last, But even if for just 5 minutes the whole world seems OK, Then I won't complain today
