Postcard

The Babys

You pack your case and you're leaving
You live your life in a different place
So many miles in between usGive anything just to see your face
When you come home I'll be waiting
Imagination's gonna pull me throughYeah, yeah, I will send you
All my love in a postcard
All my loveI spend my time thinkin' of you
My nights and days turned into gray
I can't hold moments togetherWinter [unverified] come since you've been away
My heart is yours now forever
I feel my love must be a part of youYeah, yeah, I will send you
All my love in a postcard
All my loveI realize why I miss you
It seems so strange every thing's unchanged
I feel I'm caught in a silenceI feel my life has been rearranged
When you come home, I'll be waiting
When you left, you took my heart with youYeah, yeah, I will send you
All my love in a postcard
All my love
