Nysay

You said I seem so grim and, darling, do you forgive me?

And I went out on a limb 'cause I needed to be

Near the fireflies flying high above me

And then I hit the sky and it fell down on meYou said it wasn't sharp but I cut my finger

You said it just wouldn't burn and I scarred my face

You know I bite my nails, my skin and my fingers

And I've heard that's my liver, my nerves and my brainI said I just like to bite on my fuckin' fingers

Do you have another intelligent answer for me today?You said it wasn't sharp but I cut my finger

You said it just wouldn't burn and I scarred my face

You said it just wasn't when it fell down on me

And I'm just a son of a bitch no matter what you sayI lost my trust in you you were dangerous and scary

And you poisoned me with the fruits

Everyone was intrigued by and I finally got buriedYou said I won't forget and I don't remember

And you said I'm something I'm not and I fell on my face

You said I wouldn't rot but worms are crawling on me

I'm just a son of a bitch no matter what you say

Now I'm just a son of a bitch no matter what you say
