ItÂ´s My Birthday

Ol' Paint

It's my birthday and I'm all alone
I've got nobody I can call my own
Spent my years in the infantry
Fighting a war that nobody could see

But I'm here all alone and nobodies at home
And nobody will call I've got nobody at all
To share my day with me to share

It's my birthday oh and where are you?
I thought today the number might be two
Spent my years always far away
I knew the loneliness would come someday

It's my birthday someone mark it down
It must have been me there's noone else around
Spent my years in a foreign land
Never needing any sort of outstretched hand
