Lose the Right

The Dead Weather

I always knew you put poison in your potion
I lost my will to reason so long ago
You are as broken as the ghost that you believe in
I seen him in you, you knowListen to me when I tell you what you mean to me
Just to clear the air, the air around you is killing me
Oh, whatever's in between you and me and the vicinity
It isn't fair to me so leave and don't come back to meOh, you lose the right
Oh, you lose the rightWhen your mind goes straight to hell, you lose the right
To tell anybody what to do
Your fire licks the sky just to blind
Whoever happens to come close enough to youYou lose the rightI always knew you put poison in your potion
You're broke like the ghost, the ghost, the ghost
The ghost that you believe inOh oh, you lose the right
Oh oh, you lose the right
