Finally Faded In

Sundown Delay

The moonbeam fingers always held me down
First person winner never was around
I was a lesser version of myself
Now Iâ€™m back without having been away

My heart was placed inside a tigerâ€™s cage
I stole it back despite the tigerâ€™s rage
I swim the ocean, I climb the mountain high
I truly feel that I could never die

Put your coat on babe and fill your glass with sin
Join me on the run and watch me when I win
Feel so vital now, donâ€™t care where I have been Iâ€™m the full version now, I finally faded in

And my sundown was delayed
So this song's about today
Enjoy it as we fade away

I was once close to being eternally turn to stone
Prevented from continue, trapped in time alone
But the giant sitting by the sea singing the blues
Taught me how to rearrange the truth

Put your coat onâ€¦
