

Beginners

The Tallest Man on Earth

"What do you want?" was never answered then some things were handed out

We got weird and thick instructions but somehow we planned a route

Oh, then we got all nervous, baby, I don't have a heart like you

And so we listen now with nature, We're just loud and nothing ran

And I know I shouldn't be here, but I want to be your man

Oh, suddenly I'm lost but I just want to be a part of true

And then so suddenly we are gone

Looking out for some way

You and I we belong on this wild and wonderful trail You're just a singer wanting silence

I just have illegal thoughts

I will kill with the "take you" but now this is not enough

Oh, there will be a moment when I ask you to believe in love

And I could probably be patient

But we just don't have a hell lot of time

It's getting light and I just want you in the night

Oh, we will all be caught and they won't let me hang around with you

Then so suddenly we are gone

Looking out for some way

You and I we belong on these wild and wonderful trails I could just leave tomorrow, but baby, letting you go

All these songs will be just of sorrow

And we have no idea but then what else do we know?

We let it out, to let it ride

And we are winners going out there

And we steal and dream new thoughts

They will heal you when you find them and

It's never just enough

Oh, then we get all nervous baby, I don't have a plan

Do you? Oh, so suddenly we are gone

Looking out for some way

You and I we belong on these wild and wonderful trails

I could just leave tomorrow, but baby, letting you go

All these songs would be just of sorrow

And we have no idea but then what else do we know?

We let it out, to let it ride

To let it ride
