

Afternoons in the Sunshine

Beans On Toast

Naivety isn't bliss and that's why I'm waving a placard banning a bomb, righting a wrong or trying and being ignored cos if you want the pie in the sky well baby you'd better believe it cos the moon on a stick to the filthy and rich is another political puppet and the left leaning liberals got lonely defending the rights of us all everyone else just looks selfish thinking of only a few but we all have got our opinions and we will all share them in time sometimes our opinions are different though and that's where the problems lie but we all wanna live, we all wanna laugh we all wanna love and we all wanna dance so lets put our problems aside spend an afternoon in the sunshine im wearing my rose tinted glasses over my bleeding heart enjoying every moment of this wonderful life that I've got fooling myself that by singing my songs I'm kinda doing my bit but I'm as embarrassed as everyone else at the size of my footprint but I wanna eat meat and I wanna fly I don't wanna feel guilty just for being alive and I'll work hard to keep my afternoon in the sunshine its like an angry open letter and an online think piece an out of tune folk song at an under attended protest weâ€™re all looking left and right as the world goes down the drain lets think about the things that we agree on for a change cos weâ€™re all skin and bones weâ€™re all flesh and blood we all get lonely and we all need love deep down we are all the same just a human in a race
