

Your Every Color

Train

I can see the red, white and free in you
You light the night up like the moon
And underneath your clouds, I see the blue
You're hopeless cause you tell the truth
The stars are jealous of your shine if you were mine
There's not a thing I wouldn't do
You're black and beautiful, yellow, tan
You're white as light and soft as sand
Greens and greys and oh for days
A silver lining on the way
You cover everyone
Just like a mornin' sun
You turn me into someone I would rather be
Ooh, I love your every color
Ooh, I love your everything
You wear the day around you
Like it's yours to stay around you
Maybe I could stay around you too
If that's alright with you
You're coffee brown and bubble gum pink
And oh I think the shade of you is on the brink
Of changin' all the ways I see the world
I could drown inside a single drop
Of all the kinds of things you got
And all the kinds of things I'm not
Might just give me a chance to see
From way up where you are
Above the silent stars
Just dancin' in the sky
Ooh, I love your every color
Ooh, I love your everything
You wear the day around you
Like it's yours to stay around you
Maybe I could stay around you too
If that's alright with you
You're better than any rainbow
You're brighter than the sun
You look like my first day of summer
When my spring is on the run
You're gold and more gold
And you're platinum too
With snow toned, copper attitude
I don't know what I'll do without you
I don't know what I'll do about you
Ooh, I love your every color
Ooh, ooh I love your everything
You wear the day around you

Like its yours to stay around you
Maybe I could stay around you too
If thats alright with you Ooh, I love your every color
Ooh, I love your every color
Ooh, I love your every color
Ooh, I love your everything
