

Long White Cadillac

Dwight Yoakam

Night wolves moan
Winter hills are black
I'm all alone
Sitting in the back
Of a long white Cadillac Train whistle cries
Lost on it's own track
I close my eyes
Sitting in the back
Of a long white Cadillac Sometimes I blame it on a woman
The one that made my poor heart bleed
Sometimes I blame it on the money
Sometimes I blame it all on me Headlights shine
A highway fades to black
It's my last ride
Sitting in the back
Of a long white Cadillac Sometimes I blame it on a woman
The one that made my poor heart bleed
Sometimes I blame it on the money
Sometimes I blame it all on me Train whistle cries
Lost on it's own track
I close my eyes
I ain't never coming back
In a long white Cadillac In a long white Cadillac
In a long white Cadillac
In a long white Cadillac
In a long white Cadillac Ahhhhhh bye-bye baby
