

New Morning Light

Come And Go

Sunshine on faces, well the summer's here again
As I wake from remnants of a springtime lack of air
And you're by my side now, and I think I almost care
How and where my mind sits in the shadows we could

Share and get lost for awhile
Sleep all the time then wake up beside me
And slowly open your eyes

Chorus

To a New Morning Light
Yeah, I've felt this one before
A New Morning Light
Yeah, brings back the memories of mine
I'll be just fine, just hold me now, don't let me go
A New Morning Light

Sunshine just takes me where you just don't feel as old
In wide open spaces with memories of flowers in rows
And I ran beside you, out of breath, but we'd still go
How it feels inside her could never be as smooth as

Gold in the palm of your hand
Sharp as your eyes, yeah one more memory
If we could look we would see...

Chorus

Nice to believe that we're running
Nice to believe that you'll come home
And you rush out
Nice to believe that there's something
Nice to believe that we can shine as bright
If we would just believe...

Chorus x2
