Ghost Towns

Terry Jones

I've got no need for open roads
'Cause all I own fits on my back
I see the world from rusted trains
And always know I won't be back'Cause all my life
Is wrapped up in today
No past or future here
If I find my name's no good
I just fall out of lineCHORUS:But I miss you
There's no comin' home
There's no comin' home
With a name like mine
I still think of you
But everyone knows
Yeah everyone knows
If you can, let it goI see more places than I can name
And over time they all start to look the same
But it ain't that truth we chase
No, it's the promise of a better placeBut all this time
I've been chasin' down a lie
And I know it for what it is
But it beats the alternatives
So I'll take the lieCHORUS:I still miss you
There's no goin' home
There's no goin' home
With a name like mine
I still dream of you
But everyone knows
Yeah everyone knows
If you can, let it go
