

Fragile World

Small Town Heroes

Innocence is a fragile word
Taken for granted when you lose your way
Seen but never heard our voices sing
Love is just a word
But it still always hurts
Taken way too soon the cries will ring Have faith in this fragile world
Find hope in the dreams we made
Seen but never heard our voices sing As I start to age
And my hair starts to grey
I will feel the same
As these memories remain
Forever burned in my heart Rest in peace my angels
No more tears and no more pain
Even though you've left
These scars will remain We always said when things got bad
We'd pack our bags and we'd fly away
Yeah we'll fly away to a better place in the clouds
But you're already gone Rest in peace my angels
No more tears and no more pain
Even though you've left
These scars will remain
Take the time my angels
Lord knows you've heard enough
For eternity you'll forever be a memory to me

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>