

Hold On (Allsopp, Adam Phillips)

Just Jack

I'm not a young man anymore
But I've got the face of a
19 year old
Probably be a dad soon
Sitting in my front room
With my kids, play doe moldBut I just hold on to What I've got
Right nowI'm not who I used to be
Trust me
I've got plans everyday next week
You know your getting older
When the kids on the corner
Have you baffled every time they speakSo lets just hold on to What we've got
Right nowLooking round at my friends
And I see that the end of an era
Has come to pass
The fun and the games
And the fluid in our brains
Have all been reduced by halfSo lets just hold on to What we're got
Right NowI'm not a young man anymore
But I've got the face of a
19 year old
Everything's changed
But I can't complain
Cause I'm doing pretty well all talk
