Genghis Khan

Dschinghis Khan

They rode the fastest horses left the wind behind thousand men and one man led the way the others followed blind Genghis Khan.

They galloped over mountains and desert sands they carried desolation throughout the land and nothing there could stop them in this world.Geng go brother

drink brother

dance brotherhear us holler you can hearhis laughter ho ho ho now and ever after ha ha ha ha when he drinks his jug up at one draught. He was the greatest lover and the strongest man of his day and we have heard that all the women fell for him so they say and he bred seven child in one long night he had his foes a-running at his very sight and nothing that could stop him in this world.Geng
