Another Day

Trouble

Don't cry I know it might be hard
But I won't be very far
Remember how to smile
I need to leave you for a whileThere is a way think I found another day
There is a way think I found another dayI hope you know that I love you
So the skies keep turning blue
Stand up and face all your fear
Think of me through the yearsThere is a way think I found another day
There is a way think I found another dayLive on all things are the same
For my sake and in my name
Never be afraid to die
Cause I'll be waiting in the skyThere is a way think I found another day
There is a way think I found another day
