

Another Day

Trouble

Don't cry I know it might be hard
But I won't be very far
Remember how to smile
I need to leave you for a while
There is a way think I found another day
There is a way think I found another day
I hope you know that I love you
So the skies keep turning blue
Stand up and face all your fear
Think of me through the years
There is a way think I found another day
There is a way think I found another day
Live on all things are the same
For my sake and in my name
Never be afraid to die
Cause I'll be waiting in the sky
There is a way think I found another day
There is a way think I found another day
