

This Is the Sweetest Little Song

Butch Walker

I can only keep this feeling for a minute
I can stare at a Polaroid so long
Before the chromofilm blurs and the smiles
On our faces are gone, yeah I crossed a line 5 years in the making
That the biggest eraser can't clear
And I'm rewinding every time
That I whispered that in your ear As I laid on you
And your naked body
Looked just like
I wanted it to And I wanna be the inspiration
For your room going silent
I wanna feel you erupt
When I play your song I wanna move you to tears
When I say
"It's over, goodnight"
And the rest of your life I get mad at myself for not acting myself
I get jealous at the thought of you out
I don't want you to think
That it's all that I'm thinking about But damn god I do
And every time
That I hear someone laugh
It sounds just like you And I wanna be the inspiration
For your room going silent
I wanna feel you erupt
When I play your song I wanna move you to tears
When I say
"It's over, goodnight"
And the rest of your life As I laid on you
And your naked body
Looked just like
I wanted it to And I wanna be the inspiration
For your room going silent
I wanna feel you erupt
When I play your song I wanna move you to tears
When I say
"It's over, goodnight"
And the rest of your life
