Something I Can Steal

Burns Out Bright

i want to let you in. i want to want your skin. i've seen in you. something i can steal. i was on my way to something new. just like you before. all this changed. began to feel the same. it's expected that you lie. despite your empty eyes. and on and on it goes to show. you always know you're right. you're scared somethings changed. i fear it's all the same. i need in you. something new to feel. i was on my way to something new. with all the hurt in mind. i've seen in you. what i've left behind. it's expected that you lie. despite your empty eyes. and on and on it goes. to show you always know you're right. i've said it all a million times. i'm leaving. i'm leaving. i seem to always change my mind. i'm screaming, i'm screaming

Lyrics provided by
https://damnlyrics.com/