Plain

Killpretty

He made you feel plain
When he forgot your name
Let me tell you something
I have felt the sameI know you're in pain
But be another boy along the way
And God he made you beautiful and
There's nothin' about you that's plainYou are jewel you're a treasure
You are one of a kind
And you shine just as bright
As the stars in the skyYou're a rare kind of wonder
Created just right
So keep your head up no matter the pain
There's nothing about you that's plain
No no noYou tell me, you're not the type
The kind of girl that they like
And your a little insecure about
How you look in their eyesWell fashion will change
And trends come and go everyday
But God only made one of you and
There's nothin' about you that's plain'Cause you are a jewel you're a treasure
You are one of a kind and
You shine just as bright as
The stars in the skyYou're a rare kind of wonder
Created just right
So keep your head up no matter the pain
There's nothin' about you that's plainSee your mind, it is precious
Though your heart may be restless
And your eyes they will see
All that you're meant to be'Cause your spirit is strong
And your soul carries on
You'll keep your head up no matter the pain
There's nothin' about you that's plainYou know I've had my days
When I feel out of place, yeah
I look at who I am, cover what I can
I wish it all would change butTake the makeup away
You see the same girl still remains
She may not feel that beautiful
But there's nothin' about her that's plainAnd you are jewel you're a treasure
You are one of a kind

And you shine just as bright
As the stars in the skyYou're a rare kind of wonder
Created just right so keep
Your head up no matter the pain
Keep your head up no matter the pain, ooh yeah
Keep your head up no matter the pain
There's nothin' about you that's plainYou may have felt plain but God, he knows your name
Let me tell you something
There's nothin' about you that's plain
