What Happens Tomorrow

Duran Duran

Child, don't you worry
It's enough your growing up in such a hurry
Brings you down, the news they sell ya
To put in your mind that all mankind is a failure
But nobody knows
What's gonna happen tomorrow
We try not to show
How frightened we are
If you love me, I'll protect you however I can
You've got to believe, it'll be alright in the end
You've got to believe, it'll be alright again
Fighting because we're so close
There are times we punish those who we need the most
No we can't wait for a savior
Only got ourselves to blame for this behavior
But nobody knows
(Nobody knows)
What's gonna happen tomorrow
We try not to show
How frightened we are
It would seem lonely, if you were the only star in the night?
You've got to believe, it'll be alright in the end
You've got to believe, it'll be alright again
And nobody knows
What's gonna happen tomorrow
(Nobody knows)
So don't let go
Now we've come this far
Hold my hand please
Understand me, you're never alone
We've got to believe, it'll be alright in the end
(Nobody knows)
You've got to believe, it'll be alright my friend
(So don't let go)
And yes we believe, it'll be alright again
(So don't let go)
