

What This World Is Coming To (feat. Beck)

Nate Ruess

Someone sucked the life out of the room
When that someone said goodbye much too soon
I'd hate for you to love me cause you saw me out with someone who you read about in the news
But I guess that's what this world is coming to I watched as your wrists began to bruise
Threading ribbons weaving patterns
Beautiful and blue
All your late nights came to life
And then died upon just one dislike
Never mind all the people that you moved
But I guess that's what this world is coming to So let's get high here in the moonlight
Even the stars go right over our head
I think I'm gonna shine in the afterlife
Leaving the fight for peace of mind instead So let's get high in the moonlight
Even the stars go right over our head
I know I'm gonna shine here in the afterlife
Leaving the fight for peace of mind instead You know that I can't stop thinkin' bout you
You're the source of everything I do
You brought faith to songs I sing
So I went and bought a diamond ring
I wanna spend each night here with you
Yeah you took everything I was
And you turned it into something I've become Good god what's a boy to do? But I guess that's what this world
Oh, I guess that's what this world
Oh, I guess that's what this world is, is coming to Oh, I guess that's what my life is, is coming to Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>