

Our Endless War

Whitechapel

Let's go America our wasteland
Where death is entertainment
The place where moving forward means you turn the other direction
A place where reality existed
And we still continue to bleed Red, White, Blue for ourselves and who?
And they still hold the truth so we say
Fuck you!

My country disagreed, sweet land of idiocracy This is our endless war! While we still have liberty
Let's take back our justice for all
We can march at sundown upon capitol hill
We're calling you out
Come face us now and see your true war
Let's take it back
We the people have spoken against Our endless war! There is nothing left to prove We've spoke our minds risked our lives
Make your move
Tread lightly, choose your words wisely
Or we will refuse to bleed Red, White, Blue for ourselves and who?
And they still hold the truth so we say
Fuck you!

My country disagreed, sweet land of idiocracy While we still have liberty, all justice for all Shut it down! 50 states united as one
But we still can't find a solution
Where have we gone
It seems that our motto to live by
When your chin deep in shit don't, breathe and die!

don't, breathe and die! Let's take back our justice for all! We can march at sundown upon capitol hill
We're calling you out
Come face us now and see your true war
We can march at sundown upon capitol hill
We're calling you out
Come face us now and see your true war I've said before and I'll say it again
This world is ours
Let's take it back and give them their war Let's take it back!
We the people
Have spoken against
Our endless war!
My country disagreed, sweet land of idiocracy
