

Life's A Struggle

Blazin' Squad

Life's a struggle
When you're on your own
We can do this together
You don't have to be alone
Remember when you're in trouble
Don't do this by yourself
If you ever need some help
You're not the only one that's felt this way
It's gonna be alright again
It's gonna be alright
Let's go
Forget where the story ends, this is where it begins
If you listen to this closely hopefully you can win
You gotta tell somebody now before it goes to far
'Cause a problem shared is a problem halved
Forget the past we all no you're stronger than that
You shouldn't listen to the rumors just ignore the chit chat
So listen to what we have written, hopefully hittin' on you
It's like a lesson depression is what you're goin' through
Sending this message, addressing whoever feels pain
It's like a blessing you stressing, needing to maintain
Keep the same frame, we'll keep rappin'
You ain't the only one these things happen
Life's a struggle
When you're on your own
We can do this together
You don't have to be alone
Remember when you're in trouble
Don't do this by yourself
If you ever need some help
You're not the only one that's felt this way
It's harder from here on
It's like its smarter to be wrong
Ignorance has got you gripped strong
Who you counted on is gone
Making more money means
Playing more money games
Pretending to be something
Seems the dreams of what you want to be

You pitch your sights or you're
Walking on the cold nights, there's no one in sight
That's how it feels inside when pressure collides
The things you treasure in life, a mere image in your mind
The first words that you heard were wise
But you chose to ignore the advice and disguise the good in life
You need to hold it down son
But that's life 'cause these things happen
Life's a struggle
When you're on your own
We can do this together
You don't have to be alone
Remember when you're in trouble
Don't do this by yourself
If you ever need some help
You're not the only one that's felt this way
It's gonna be alright again
It's gonna be alright, oh, oh
Baby, mama, don't cry everything will be fine
It might take a little time so till then keep your head high
And never let your pride die no matter what you'll get by
'Cause everybody as an obstacle to beat in their life
And don't time fly by, you ain't alone no more
You got another person in your life to show your love for
It might seem a little hard, it might get a little tough
You might feel you want to quit
Because you think you've had enough
But never give up, stay strong, never give in
Your baby's dad walked out on you, trust me you don't need him
I know having a baby at our age is a challenge
But others make it through and you could to
'Cause these things happen
Life's a struggle
When you're on your own
We can do this together
You don't have to be alone
Remember when you're in trouble
Don't do this by yourself
If you ever need some help
You're not the only one that's felt this way

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>