

Everytime You Touch Me

Moby

Oh, come and take me away
Oh, 'cause everything is wrong today
Look to the east, there are colors in the sky
The sun and the flames, and though I started to cry
'Cause every time you touch me I feel like I'm being born
Every time you touch me I feel like I need some more
Love's so high, never feeling bad, used to be alone now I feel so glad
Every time you touch me I feel like I'm being born
Anytime you need some peace, come along and stay with me
The forest burns, there are fires in the sky
'Cause every time you touch me I feel like I'm being born
Every time you touch me I feel like I need some more
Love's so high, never feeling bad, used to be alone now I feel so glad
Every time you touch me I feel like I'm being born
Want time in your fist, you got to be free
C'mon want time in your fist, now come stay with me
'Cause I pull it to the left, pull it to the right
Mass this song with them that uptight, want everybody just feel alright
Mass it 'course to make you excite
'Cause every time you touch me I feel like I'm being born
Every time you touch me I feel like I need some more
Love's so high, never feeling bad, used to be alone now I feel so glad
Every time you touch me I feel like I'm being born
'Cause every time you touch me I feel like I'm being born
Every time you touch me I feel like I need some more
Love's so high, never feeling bad, used to be alone now I feel so glad
Every time you touch me I feel like I'm being born
