Far and Wide

Solea

Been sifting thru this box of thoughts i found
Caught myself floating right out your front door
I take my chances and won't make a sound
It's a feeling i just can't ignore
Every night it took so long while you just sat and started
It took a howling wind so strong to break thru all your fears
Caught glimpse of you just walking by Sat on the corner watching cars go by Check my pockets see what's left behind
Just one more moment
Can't be sure this time
