

Mornings Outside

Forgive-Me-Not

See another morning outside when it cries
Makes us feel that we're still alive
Clouds reveal any reason to hide and to find freshening morning outsideThe Sun goes up
And my heart beats faster againI've got to seek for warning
That every morning can be last
I'm on the way of calling
Back the days of my past
I've got to seek for warning
That every morning can be last
Mornings of my pastLife turned out to be so easy to start
Make it easy to end
When the new day means to be real
In the end I look for the morning outsideThe Sun goes up
And my heart beats faster againI've got to seek for warning
That every morning can be last
I'm on the way of calling
Back the days of my past
I've got to seek for warning
That every morning can be last
Mornings of my past...

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>