

So Far So Good

Story Of The Year

never for one single second thought that I would find myself at the beginning but at the end am I wasting time pictures fading while I sing this song a million times a million times all that I promised to myself another word misplaced tonight all that I'm holding in why am I holding in so far so good a picture's worth a thousand words
so far so good
a picture's worth a thousand words forever thriving on a feeling no tomorrow without a day of growing older I can defend the bridge I burn this time at constant odds with the hope that keeps me alive keeps me alive all that I promised to myself another word misplaced tonight
all that I'm holding in why am I holding in Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>