

Calm Before The Storm

Restless Heart

Well, you blow through here like you own this town
Like a hurricane, you never touch down
I hear the sound of the thunder, I start to tremble slow
I know it won't be long until the whole thing blows
Somebody's gonna get hurt, somebody's gonna go down
Just when you think it's over, it's gonna come back around
You're just headed for trouble, don't say you haven't been warned
You'd better get out on the double, it's just the calm before the storm
You've got nobody you can call your own
Everything you touch just turns to stone
Someday you're gonna wake up and it'll all be gone
And you'll realize everything you did was wrong
Somebody's gonna get hurt, somebody's gonna go down
Just when you think it's over, it's gonna come back around
You're just headed for trouble, don't say you haven't been warned
You'd better get out on the double, it's just the calm before the storm

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>