

Through These Eyes

Lynch Mob

Music: lynch

Lyrics: logan, esposito, lynch
Morning comes too soon

Another day unfolds and the rains are cold

That fall on you

I wanna tell you

But I can't seem to get it

Can't seem to get it right

Oh, it's killing me

I realize that it cuts me deep inside

When I can feel in my soul

This empty whole you took from me

Cause on and on

You keep tellin' me the things that make you smile

If I could hold you somehow

And show you now

That the tears in vain will never ease the pain
Oh, i, I can only see

As far as you

You're never too far away

Oh my eyes can only see

What I feel for you
I could fly the heavens

Although the distance may be far

I'm just one dream away

And the tears will say

That there's no turning back

Quiet in my thoughts

Safe within myself

I reach out to a time

When you laid by my side

And oh how it felt so right

Don't you even worry now
