Actions That Echo

Twin Atlantic

Be straight up
If you wanna gain my trust
I'll tell you that where I come from
I've nothing to lose
Playing doom
With you in the living room
Listening to orange juice
With sex on the runWhen you said you would travel the world
I never knew you would make it so real
Coast to coast like I'm chasing the sun
You need to know that this is the dealYou need to live in the moment
Instead of hoping
Your future is waiting for you
Feel alive
And know that someday
The things you're wanting
Are your actions that echo from youSummer rain it happened every single day
Instead of chasing clouds away
Embrace the storm of feeling young and dive into meWhen you said you would travel the world
I never knew you would make it so real
Coast to coast like you're chasing the sun
You need to know that this is the dealYou need to live in the moment
Instead of hoping
Your future is waiting for you
Feel alive
And know that someday
The things you're wantingAre your actions that echo from you
For you, for you
It's true, it's trueYou need to live in the moment
Instead of hoping
That your future is waiting for you
Feel alive
And know that someday
The things you're wanting
Are your actions that echoYou need to live in the moment
Instead of hoping
Your future is waiting for you
Feel alive and know that someday
The things you're wanting

Are your actions that echo from youYou need to live in the moment
Instead of hoping
Your future is waiting for you
Feel alive and know that someday
The things you're wanting
Are your actions that echo from you
