Blind Girl

John Gonzalez

You been down, for a while now And I hate to see you sad You been hurting, and he don't even care. You been crying you been trying And the truth is cold as ice. He don't want you, and you don't let him go. I must be talking to a blind girl. The bridge its burnin, can't you see. Makes no sense why you stay wating. He don't want you, but you keep on holdin on
You don't smile anymore
And that ain't the girl I know
He ain't worth it, and you don't let him be
You been lieing to you're heart
And it's been so from the start
Can't you see, but you ain't listening to me
Cuz I must be talking to a blind girl
The bridge its burnin can't you see
Makes no sense why you stay waiting
He don't want you, but you keep on holding on.
