

My Bloody Clownsuit

Nora

I just watched somebody die.

I just swallowed another lie.

I don't want to swallow another lie.

I don't want to see people die.

It's time to own up to what you said,

To back up what you've done.

The TV screen - you want something from me. The TV screams - you need something from me. The TV screen - you want something from me.

I don't want to be afraid.

The TV screams - you need something from me.

Another life, another lie, mass murders of the mind.

Another life, another lie, mass murders of my mind.

This is why we hide.

I don't want to be afraid to go outside.

This is why we die.

This is why.
