

Surrounded By Monsters

I'm failing, I'm slipping, I'm falling.
 Reaching for something repeating.
 I'm anxious, I'm nervous, I'm tortured.

I'm failing, I'm slipping, I'm falling.
 Reaching for something repeating.
 I'm anxious, I'm nervous, I'm tortured.

My limbs tied to four horses followed by a shotgun blast.
 But I'll never forget spending all this time by your side.
 Everything you taught me and everything I know.
 Your wisdom, I won't ever let go.

"So, boy respect your women and you'll make an honorable man."
 I'll always be listening.
 I'll always be listening.

You bear the heart of a lion,
 you own the love of a God.

The pain will be over, go to sleep my dear.
 Met your shore, the tide to take you is near.
 You'll float safe and sweet, heavenly at peace.

I hold my breath.
 I hold my breath.
 I hold my breath.

Minutes to hours you breath in, you breath out.
 We wait holding our own, holding your hand.
 Pressed from tired lips I heard it one last time, those three perfect words.

Resentment, it comes as fast as death, it's vile jaws devour so hastily.
 The storm that comes with this creates such an immense void.

All my heroes have fallen.
 All my heroes have fallen.
 All my heroes have fallen.
 All of my heroes have fallen.

All my heroes have fallen.
All my heroes have fallen.
All of my heroes have fallen.
All my heroes have fallen.

All my heroes have fallen.
All of my heroes have fallen.
All my heroes have fallen.
All my heroes have fallen.
All my heroes have fallen.
